Description:

Are you a library student looking for a unique opportunity to work in an international school library? Dulwich College Suzhou is looking for a library intern for the school year 2018-2019. This will be the fifth year we have offered the intern program which has enabled previous library interns to transition into their own international school libraries.

This is an active position at a prestigious British school for expatriate children living in China. You will work closely with our two librarians, our library assistants, our teachers, and of course, our students. This is truly an incredible opportunity for an adventurous, future-librarian. There is flexibility in the programme for interns to pursue their own interests, building on their library strengths. You will work hard, but the experience and opportunities to advance your library career are priceless.

Opened in 2007, Dulwich College Suzhou is located 100 km (65 miles) from Shanghai and has approximately 930 PreK-12 students. There are two separate libraries on the Dulwich campus, and the intern would work in both libraries throughout the school day, M-F. There are also some light evening duties (shared) in our student boarding house.

In brief, intern benefits include airfare, health insurance, visa, accommodations (boarding house/ dorm), and pocket money. The intern will work primarily in the libraries but will also have other duties within the boarding house/ dorm.
